

VERA

You owe me.

DAN

Why do I think it came at a price?

VERA

Why do you always disrespect me?

DAN

Excuse me, master.

VERA

That's harsh.

DAN

You're always referring to me as your resource.

VERA

You are.

DAN

Ok, so thank you, now please let me get to my work, since we do NOT really have a scheduled meeting.

VERA

Can you fix my phone?

DAN

See I knew it.

VERA

Why were you so late?

DAN

I had the day off, they called me in.

VERA

Day off for what?

DAN

To just...I don't know, none of your business.

VERA

I'm not stupid, I know Madden was midnight pickup last night -- there's more to life than playing video games, Dan.

She gives him a sexy smirk. He gives her the once over then turns his attention back to his monitor.

He fiddles with her phone, she sits close to him on the edge of his desk.

VERA (CONT'D)

Hey, so I was looking through the deployment project plan--

DAN

Here we go. I told you--

VERA

I know, you said no weekends, but--

DAN

But what? I'd rather do weeknights than weekends.

VERA

I know, but I have you weeknights AND weekends, it's an aggressive deployment...you can sleep after. Take all the comp time you want...like last time.

DAN

Last time I got a whole MONDAY after a 60hr week.

She gets closer to him to be discrete...

VERA

You haven't heard?

DAN

Heard what?

VERA

Once we're done they're going to evaluate our performance, and if...

She looks around outside his office.

DAN

If what already?!

VERA

They might not renew our option years.

Hits him like a ton of bricks, his eyes go wide.
